VOCATION PRAYER

Lord give me the gift of a generous heart to follow your will as I journey the path of life. You set before me the vocation of priesthood, religious life, single life and marriage. Grant me the grace and generosity I need to answer your call. Amen.

CONTINUING THE ENCYCLICAL LETTER OF THE SUPREME PONTIFF FRANCIS THE ECCLESIAL FORM OF FAITH

CHAPTER TWO

UNLESS YOU BELIEVE, YOU WILL NOT UNDERSTAND

Knowledge of the truth and love

26. This being the case, can Christian faith provide a service to the common good with regard to the right way of understanding truth? To answer this question, we need to reflect on the kind of knowledge involved in faith. Here a saying of Saint Paul can help us: "One believes with the heart" (Rom 10:10). In the Bible, the heart is the core of the human person, where all his or her different dimensions intersect: body and spirit, interiority and openness to the world and to others, intellect, will and affectivity. If the heart is capable of holding all these dimensions together, it is because it is where we become open to truth and love, where we let them touch us and deeply transform us. Faith transforms the whole person precisely to the extent that he or she becomes open to love. Through this blending of faith and love we come to see the kind of knowledge which faith entails, its power to convince and its ability to illumine our steps. Faith knows because it is tied to love, because love itself brings enlightenment. Faith's understanding is born when we receive the immense love of God which transforms us inwardly and enables us to see reality with new eyes.

27. The explanation of the connection between faith and certainty put forward by the philosopher Ludwig Wittgenstein is well known. For Wittgenstein, believing can be compared to the experience of falling in love: it is something subjective which cannot be proposed as a truth valid for everyone.[19] Indeed, most people nowadays would not consider love as related in any way to truth. Love is seen as an experience associated with the world of fleeting emotions, no longer with truth.

But is this an adequate description of love? Love cannot be reduced to an ephemeral emotion. True, it engages our affectivity, but in order to open it to the beloved and thus to blaze a trail leading away from self-centredness and towards another person, in order to build a lasting relationship; love aims at union with the beloved. Here we begin to see how love requires truth. Only to the extent that love is grounded in truth can it endure over time, can it transcend the passing moment and be sufficiently solid to sustain a shared journey. If love is not tied to truth, it falls prey to fickle emotions and cannot stand the test of time. True love, on the other hand, unifies all the elements of our person and becomes a new light pointing the way to a great and fulfilled life. Without truth, love is incapable of establishing a firm bond; it cannot liberate our isolated ego or redeem it from the fleeting moment in order to create life and bear fruit.

If love needs truth, truth also needs love. Love and truth are inseparable. Without love, truth becomes cold, impersonal and oppressive for people's day-to-day lives. The truth we seek, the truth that gives meaning to our journey through life, enlightens us whenever we are touched by love. One who loves realizes that love is an experience of truth, that it opens our eyes to see reality in a new way, in union with the beloved. In this sense, Saint Gregory the Great could write that "amor ipse notitia est", love is itself a kind of knowledge possessed of its own logic. It is a relational way of viewing the world, which then becomes a form of shared knowledge, vision through the eyes of another and a shared vision of all that exists. William of Saint-Thierry, in the Middle Ages, follows this tradition when he comments on the verse of the Song of Songs where the lover says to the beloved, "Your eyes are doves" (Song 1:15). The two eyes, says William, are faith-filled reason and love, which then become one in rising to the contemplation of God, when our understanding becomes "an understanding of enlightened love".

Fr. Leslie writes

Welcome to all our parishioners and visitors to our parish church on this the first Sunday of Lent. On Ash Wednesday we received our Ashes. A reminder that we are dust and unto dust we shall return. We were also invited to repent of our sins and believe in the Gospel. We begin our 40 days journey towards Easter with repentance and faithfully following the Gospel in our everyday lives. This season is a stark reminder of our constant need for God's mercy and of our total dependence on him each day.

All of us are tempted every day. Temptation is an experience when we entertain thoughts, intentions or desires which are contrary to the will of God. In the "Our Father" we pray for forgiveness and help us not to give way to temptation. When we give way, then sin is committed. Unrepented sin and not forgiven leads to death. Temptation itself is not a sin. It becomes a sin when we consent to it. We need to keep before us the Kingdom of God, to pray and regularly attend to the sacramental life of the church. Pope Francis constantly reminds us that God never tires of forgiving us. Jesus shows us the way through prayer and fasting. We ask Jesus that we may follow his example. He was tempted but he resisted.

As we hear God's word and respond today in our celebration of the Eucharist, let us pray for the grace and the strength to make the right choices, and for forgiveness and another chance when we fail.

Thank you God bless and have a great Sunday.

CHARITY PLACES - PRUDENTIAL RIDE LONDON - SURREY 100

Sunday 10 August 2014. Feeling inspired by Team GB heroes such as Bradley Wiggins? Why not take part in this fantastic new cycling challenge which takes in the route of the London 2012 Olympic Road Race. Starting in the Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park in Stratford, the 100 mile route will take you and 25,000 other cyclists through traffic free streets out into Surrey's stunning country roads and hills before returning to London to finish along the Mall.

This is cycling's equivalent to the London Marathon and promises to be a truly spectacular event. This will be a really challenging event as you have to train to a level that ensures you'll complete the 100 miles in nine hours, and you'll be sharing the road with 20,000 other cyclists.

ST. JOSEPH THE WORKER LENT CAFÉ

A Café will be open at St. Joseph the Worker Parish Hall from 2.00 p.m. to 3.15 p.m. beginning on Wednesday 12 March for LENT. Everyone is welcome - bring a friend and come to watch the DVD series KNOWING GOD BETTER by David Payne. There will be time for refreshments, discussion and a crèche will also be available.

Jesus went by himself into the dry country and stayed there for forty days and nights. At the end of the time he was famished. The devil suggested that he turn stones into bread, but Jesus said that we don't only need food, but also God's teaching. Then the devil took him to the highest pinnacle of the Temple and suggested that if he jumped off angels would rescue him, but Jesus would not put God to the test. Then Jesus was shown all the kingdoms of the world and told that if he were to worship the devil they could all be his, but Jesus said that we must worship God and serve only him.
