Stewards Of The Gospel

"The important thing in evangelising is not to effortfully set out to try to convert someone, but to live one's faith as a Catholic attractively. It is important to trust that God is working".

Now Holy Week begins. While Palm Sunday recalls the entry of Jesus into Jerusalem, it is seen in two different ways. For those who had accompanied Jesus from Galilee, it has all the joy and expectation of a Messianic arrival, a Davidic king entering his city. But for the inhabitants of Jerusalem, there is the rumble of opposition. It is their voices that will grow increasingly loud, until they drown out the voices crying "Hosanna" and replace them with cries of "Crucify him!" The liturgy today solemnly recalls both sets of voices: the triumphal remembering of Jesus' entry into the Holy City and the waving of palms quickly give way to the sombre reading of the Passion.

Our participation in the liturgy can be helped by realizing that the two different cries ("Hosanna" and "Crucify him") came from two different sets of people. Both voices reveal the plan of God being brought to fulfilment. It was indeed a triumphal entry - Jesus was and is the Messianic King. However, his reign as Lord of a New Creation and a New Covenant was accomplished precisely through dying and rising. And it is those who also truly enter his dying and rising that belong to his kingdom.

So, once again, we celebrate today's liturgy and read the Matthean Passion, always keeping in mind the renewal of our baptism - indeed, they will help us to prepare for it. Try to think of the solemn but joyful entry into Jerusalem as an anticipation of our daily resurrected life, in which we acknowledge Jesus as our King, and with him seek to do the Father's will day by day. In the reading or the hearing of the account of the Lord's Passion, let us acknowledge that there is a self-centred life within us that also needs to go to the cross, to die and be buried with him. Are we prepared to let go of that life and be recreated anew? Perhaps we could make time this week for a more thorough examination of our lives and an examination of conscience. How much do we live out of our self-centred fallen nature? How much do we live as new creations, seeking each day to know and carry out the Father's will? This too will help prepare us to eagerly look forward to that baptismal renewal.

A warm welcome to St. Joseph the Worker to all our parishioners and visitors.

We now enter into Holy Week leading up to the important Christian festival of Easter, beginning today Palm Sunday, including Holy Thursday and ending on Holy Saturday. Pilgrims in Jerusalem enact the way of suffering at this time. Holy Thursday commemorates the washing of the feet and the Last Supper of Jesus with his Apostles.

Good Friday is the solemn liturgy of the Lord's Passion. The purpose of Holy Week is to re-enact, relive and participate in the Passion of Jesus Christ.

The liturgy of Palm Sunday is very powerful. It seems incredible that the very same people who lined the streets to acclaim Jesus with shouts of joy, throwing their garments onto the ground, will soon be shouting "crucify him". We wonder at the fickleness of the human heart and examine our own conduct to see where we have turned our backs on Jesus; when we have not been bothered; when we have not loved Jesus; when we have been cowards and not stood up for our faith.

Palm Sunday confirms Jesus as King; we too have received an anointing in baptism which makes us part of God's family, children of the King and therefore share in his mission. Please come this week to join ourselves with Jesus, through his Passion to the Glory of the Resurrection.

Have a great Sunday with your families and a wonderful week

"Jesus remember me when you come into your kingdom".

St. John Payne School

Jacqueline Capps would be interested in hearing from any Brentwood/Shenfield parent whose children are faced with difficulties in getting to and from St. John Payne School in Chelmsford. She is pulling together a list of those interested in a regular school coach and has found a coach company that is willing to provide this service on the basis that she can secure the minimum requirement of 30 seats.

In order for her to put a possible route and numbers together (which will then result in the coach company providing a cost per child for this service), she would like to hear from you. If you are aware of any other parents who are looking for help with transport to this school can you please pass on her contact details.

CAFOD – Migrants And Refugees

Join us at Brentwood Cathedral Parish Hall on Monday 8 May at 8.00 p.m. for a CAFOD talk on "Migrants and refugees - our brothers and sisters - an update on CAFOD's response to the Refugee Crisis" followed by discussion and reflection on how we can help in our parishes and communities.

Last year CAFOD's World News Officer, Laura Ouseley, travelled to the village of Idomeni on the border of Greece and Macedonia. She visited the huge makeshift refugee camp to meet the men, women and children who live there, as well as volunteers and CAFOD partners. Laura will be talking about her visit and updating us on the work that CAFOD's partners are doing in Lebanon, Jordan and Greece.

How can I help refugees? Watching the plight of refugees from war-stricken countries, such as Syria, can often leave us feeling helpless and asking ourselves questions such as "How can I help?"; "Could I help welcome and support a refugee family in my community?". If you are interested in working out answers to these questions, please come along and share your thoughts.

Pope Francis called upon parishes to play their part supporting refugees. This is your opportunity to respond to that call. If you are interested in finding out please contact Brenda Underwood from Brentwood Cathedral Justice and Peace team on brendaund@gmail.com

Pope Francis

Today is the International Day of Mine Awareness. Let us please renew the commitment for a world without mines!

Lent is, by nature, a time of hope because it leads us to be born anew "of the spirit", by the love of God.

When the Holy Spirit abides in our hearts, it is he who makes us understand that the Lord is near and takes care of us.

Even in the hardest and most disturbing moments, the Lord's mercy and goodness are greater than every thing.

Children's Corner

In Today's Gospel

Jesus breaks bread and drinks wine during his last supper with his friends. Then they go to a garden to pray. Jesus asks his friends to stay awake with him but they fall asleep. Judas, one of Jesus' friends, tells the soldiers where Jesus is so they can arrest him. Jesus' friend Simon Peter is scared and pretends that he doesn't know Jesus.

Pontius Pilate, the Roman in charge, allows the crowd to decide what should happen to Jesus. Jesus is treated very badly and is made to walk through the street with a crown of thorns on his head, carrying his cross. He is then nailed to the cross and dies. Jesus' friends take his body and place it in a tomb.

Prayer for Today

Dear Jesus, thank you for giving up your life for us. Help us to be brave, loyal and loving just like you and know that you are always with us. Amen.

Lost and found

*Trapped by the chains of my past and stuck in my ways,
back and forth like a football
in this football game of life.*

*Never scoring,
myself abhorring
the chances that I've had.*

*People that I've seen;
places that I've been;
children who've been born,
but through my weakness, their lives I've torn.*

Shattering their dreams before my very eyes, I've seen myself go from a loving father to nothing short of a big time waster.

*Squandering gifts,
God's loving hand I so dismissed.*

*It is only now, now!
When I am at my wits' end. do I ask for his help
on bended knees, send a prayer for forgiveness, sorrow in my heart.
"Take these chains from me, Lord.
I need a brand new start."*

*Tears running down my face, kneeling on the ground.
I hear a voice within my mind.
"My son, who was lost,
but now I have found...."*
