PARISH NEWS 17 FEBRUARY 2013

VOCATION PRAYER

Lord give me the gift of a generous heart to follow your will as I journey the path of life. You set before me the vocation of priesthood, religious life, single life and marriage. Grant me the grace and generosity I need to answer your call. Amen.

APOSTOLIC LETTER "MOTU PROPRIO DATA"

PORTA FIDEI OF THE SUPREME PONTIFF BENEDICT XVI - FOR THE INDICTION OF THE YEAR OF FAITH

CONTINUATION OF "PORTA FIDEI" (DOOR OF FAITH)

At this point I would like to sketch a path intended to help us understand more profoundly not only the content of the faith, but also the act by which we choose to entrust ourselves fully to God, in complete freedom. In fact, there exists a profound unity between the act by which we believe and the content to which we give our assent. Saint Paul helps us to enter into this reality when he writes: "Man believes with his heart and so is justified, and he confesses with his lips and so is saved".

(Rom 10:10). The heart indicates that the first act by which one comes to faith is God's gift and the action of grace which acts and transforms the person deep within.

The example of Lydia is particularly eloquent in this regard. Saint Luke recounts that, while he was at Philippi, Paul went on the Sabbath to proclaim the Gospel to some women; among them was Lydia and "the Lord opened her heart to give heed to what was said by Paul" (Acts 16:14). There is an important meaning contained within this expression. Saint Luke teaches that knowing the content to be believed is not sufficient unless the heart, the authentic sacred space within the person, is opened by grace that allows the eyes to see below the surface and to understand that what has been proclaimed is the word of God.

Confessing with the lips indicates in turn that faith implies public testimony and commitment. A Christian may never think of belief as a private act. Faith is choosing to stand with the Lord so as to live with him. This "standing with him" - points towards an understanding of the reasons for believing. Faith, precisely because it is a free act, also demands social responsibility for what one believes. The Church on the day of Pentecost demonstrates with utter clarity this public dimension of believing and proclaiming one's faith fearlessly to every person. It is the gift of the Holy Spirit that makes us fit for mission and strengthens our witness, making it frank and courageous.

Profession of faith is an act both personal and communitarian. It is the Church that is the primary subject of faith. In the faith of the Christian community, each individual receives baptism, an effective sign of entry into the people of believers in order to obtain salvation. As we read in the Catechism of the Catholic Church: "I believe" is the faith of the Church professed personally by each believer, principally during baptism. "We believe" is the faith of the Church confessed by the bishops assembled in council or more generally by the liturgical assembly of believers. "I believe" is also the Church, our mother, responding to God by faith as she teaches us to say both "I believe" and "we believe".

Evidently, knowledge of the content of faith is essential for giving one's own assent, that is to say for adhering fully with intellect and will to what the Church proposes. Knowledge of faith opens a door into the fullness of the saving mystery revealed by God. The giving of assent implies that, when we believe, we freely accept the whole mystery of faith, because the guarantor of its truth is God who reveals himself and allows us to know his mystery of love.

On the other hand, we must not forget that in our cultural context, very many people, while not claiming to have the gift of faith, are nevertheless sincerely searching for the ultimate meaning and definitive truth of their lives and of the world. This search is an authentic "preamble" to the faith, because it guides people onto the path that leads to the mystery of God. Human reason, in fact, bears within itself a demand for "what is perennially valid and lasting". This demand constitutes a permanent summons, indelibly written into the human heart, to set out to find the One whom we would not be seeking had he not already set out to meet us. To this encounter, faith invites us and it opens us in fullness.

MISSION STATEMENT

To have Christ at the centre of our lives, enabling us to grow in faith as a community where all feel welcome, loved and valued.

Fr. Leslie writes

Welcome to our parish of St Joseph the Worker.

Today on the first Sunday of Lent, we have the chance to reflect on the temptation of the Lord in the desert. This happens immediately after the baptism. The gospel shows in Jesus that, as with every baptised person, the temptation to sin is not removed by baptism. The life of the child of God, like the life of the Son of God, is marked by the encounter with all that refuses to acknowledge the God who has marked ownership of the beloved. Discipleship for those who follow Christ is marked continually by the presence of the tempter, who offers other enticements in daily living – and it is to be noted that the temptation comes precisely when we are at our weakest. "During that time he ate nothing, and at the end he was hungry". It is also the reasonableness of the first temptation that is so striking. Jesus is hungry, he has the power to provide food – why not go ahead and do it? Jesus recognises that such a reasonableness is anything but. For us during the Lenten season may we be supported in our temptations by prayer, fasting and almsgiving. These are our weapons against the tempter.

THANK YOU AND GOD BLESS

Fr Leslie

THE SUNDAY OBLIGATION

The precept of the church specifies the law of the Lord more precisely: on Sundays and other Holy Days of Obligation the faithful are bound to participate at Mass..The Sunday Eucharist is the foundation and confirmation of all Christian practices. For this reason the faithful are obliged to participate in the Eucharist, unless excused for a serious reason (for example, illness, the care of infants) or dispensed by their own pastor. Those who deliberately fail in this obligation commit a grave sin. Catechism of the Catholic Church.

WOMEN'S WORLD DAY OF PRAYER - FRIDAY 1 MARCH

This is a global ecumenical movement of informed prayer and prayerful action, organised and led by Christian women who call people together on the first Friday in March to observe common prayer. The service is written by a different country every year - this year it is the turn of France and that country then becomes the focal point of the World's prayers. This year's theme is "I was a stranger and you welcomed me". The evening service is held here at St. Joseph's at 8.00 p.m. with refreshments afterwards.

A Prayer to say

Father God, help us not to be tempted to do things which hurt you and other people. Help us always to try to do our best.

Amen.

IN THE GOSPEL TODAY

Jesus was in the wilderness for forty days. He ate nothing and the devil tempted him to turn a stone into bread, but Jesus didnt, saying that we do not live by bread alone. Then Jesus was tempted to become ruler of the whole world if only he would worship the devil, but Jesus said that we must worship the Lord God and serve only him. The devil then took Jesus to a high tower on the Temple and tempted him to throw himself off and let Gods angels catch him, but Jesus said that we must not put God to the test.
